HEALTH AND SAFETY

- Our missionaries are living and serving among the poorest of the poor. We live their way of life, trying to make God's Word and Love real in their circumstances. We are not immune to their troubles and dangers. This exposes us to safety and health risks that are not a part of the normal American life.

- Depending on the particular area you go into, we will give special instructions and may take particular measures to limit your exposure to disease, accidents, and violence. But in NO way can we assure you that no harm will befall you.

- If you have any questions about diseases in the area you intend to visit, information can be obtained at the Center for Disease Control website: www.cdc.gov

- Information on the possible political unrest or other dangerous conditions in an area can be obtained from the US Department of State website: www.state.gov

- You must pray and decide whether to take the risks associated with a mission trip.

 Please print up this sheet, sign it, and mail it in to FMC along with your application as a liability waver when going on a mission trip. If you are a group leader, your signature applies to the entire group you are leading and organizing.*

* I have read the above statements and agree to sign this liability waver for Family Missions Company. I am responsible for myself and all those in my care...
